

MEDIA RELEASE

Friday 16 August 2013

Nominate now to reward Australia's greatest constructors

Building the nation's infrastructure is a big responsibility and deserves recognition.

The Australian Constructors Association (ACA) and Engineers Australia have proudly joined over the last 17 years to ensure that the people who are building the nation's infrastructure are recognised through the presentation of the industry's most prestigious award, the Australian Construction Achievement Award (ACAA).

The ACAA is where the industry comes together to celebrate excellence. It is the industry networking event where attendance cannot afford to be missed.

The 2013 Joint Winners were:-

RMIT Swanston Academic Building (Brookfield Multiplex) and The New Royal Children's Hospital (Lend Lease)

Nominations are now open for the 2014 Australian Construction Achievement Award. Criteria and Process can be viewed at http://www.acaa.net.au/call\_for\_entries.ph. Nominations close 8 November 2013.

Finalists will be announced in Sydney on Thursday 28 November 2013 with the ACAA Winner announced on Thursday 8 May 2014 at a black tie event in Brisbane.
